

SAIGON
EQUITIES
FORUM

VinGroup plans $325m International Bond Issuance

CURRENTS

1. What are they doing?

Vingroup (HOSE: VIC) will issue up to 1,625 bonds at $200,000 par value each, totaling $325M. Investors may have the option to receive shares of Vinpearl JSC (a subsidiary) instead of cash.

Vingroup's semi-2025 report shows total financial debt VND 279 trillion (~US$10.6B) – about 1.7x its equity.

2. Impact on the Market

Bondholders win; They get 5.5% yield plus a sweetener; the bonds carry an option to convert into Vinpearl (VPL) shares adding equity upside. Hence, Vingroup gets fresh cash for projects (e.g. new senior living venture Vin New Horizon). But remains highly leveraged (debt = 1.7x equity).

Vingroup's semi-2025 report shows total financial debt VND 279 trillion (~US$10.6B) – about 1.7x its equity.

3. Any concerns?

A successful bond issue could sustain confidence; however, high debt means analysts will watch for real growth and reforms.

If the deal is done, this milestone could pave the way for more Vietnamese corporations to tap international debt markets.